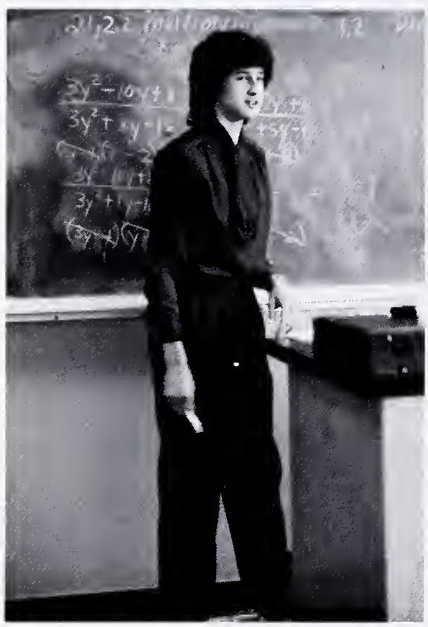
"An Exception to the Rule"



Lincoln College brings about many different and new ways of learning and living in an environment of unique people who share their feelings, emotions and characteristics. Here at Lincoln you can find a group of people who have some of the most amazing backgrounds, where you will find no two people alike. Even though each of us might be different in what we do, what we say, or what we think, we are all Lincoln College Lynx.

Before entering Lincoln College many of us were probably very nervous and scared. We were all in the same situation before entering Lincoln and after we came here and got to know others, we became very close. Each person brought out their talents and experienced many things, bringing new ways and ideas for people to follow and remember. For freshmen and outgoing sophomores, Lincoln leaves you with many great memories from the great friendships that have been formed to the quality education that you received. An education is more than books and going to classes; it is people and experiences. The people will always remain your friends long after leaving Lincoln College. We as a group, will probably remember going to the viaducts, going to see a basketball game or a soccer game, attending the fashion shows or the Lip sync contest and attending the school plays or maybe the sophomores will remember waking up one morning and having a cow in the college's front lawn. What ever there is to remember about Lincoln College, you will remember it, forever.

The Lincoln College yearbook staff has arranged this yearbook for everyone. We have tried to bring out some familiar surroundings and good memories for you to remember. We hope you enjoy this book and enjoy bringing back your good times at Lincoln College where, "We are an exception to the rule."

Dedication of Brayton Danner

BRAYTON DANNER

This year our yearbook staff would like to dedicate our 1987 Lincoln College yearbook to two people. One selected faculty member chosen for the dedication is Brayton Danner. He shows his caring and constant effort for continuous support for all the students he comes into contact with. We would like to thank you Brayton, for staying at Lincoln College for more than 25 years and we wish you many more years at Lincoln College.

Dedication of Burt Stout

Burt Stout

Our other chosen faculty member for the 1987 yearbook dedication is Burt Stout. Mr. Stout has one of the most unique styles of educating his students. Along with caring and expressing his friendliness, Mr. Stout represents the type of teacher you will never experience again. Without variety from a person there would be no person. He symbolizes one of the most interesting people that the yearbook has selected for the dedication. We also would like to thank you for being our yearbook sponsor this past year and for getting Lincoln College yearbook back in process. Mr. Stout you represent an exception to the rule.

SPRING FORMAL

Lincoln College's Spring Formal was as big of a success as our Homecoming. The student senate and student activities committees worked very hard to make it a success.

The theme for the Spring Formal dance was "In The Air Tonight" and everyone who went sure enjoyed dancing and rapping with their friends.

The court for the dance was as follows: Emmit McGriff, Jeff Leaphart, Kevin McCormic, Pete Spelson, Brian Kann and Dante Moore were the representatives for the King and Prince. The Princess and Queen representatives were Julie Hutson, Chris Arostegue, Kim Winfield, Kim Williams, Jody Provo and Stacy Wright.

The winners were:

Prince — Brian Kann
King — Kevin McCormic
Princess — Chris Arostegue
Queen — Stacy Wright

Graduation

Graduation, a time of sadness yet also a joyous day, has come upon the graduating class here at Lincoln College. Graduation for many students is a very melancholy period in one's life. It's now the time to remember and to say goodbye to Lincoln, although many people here have formed friendships that will live forever and for some, they might not ever be the same.

The students of the 1987 graduating class worked hard this year, but the memories of all the good times they have had at Lincoln College will never be forgotten.

The faculty, staff and students all wish the graduating class the best of luck in their lives and for them to remember Lincoln College forever.

Grease

On March 30, April 1, 2, 3, Lincoln College took a trip back to 1957 when "The Pink Ladies," and "The Burger Palace Boys" were what was in. The 1987 spring musical "Grease" was an excellent example of the talent that Lincoln College had to offer. The Johnston Center center stage was transformed into a by gone era when Poodle skirts, Marylin Monroe and Grease Lightning was what interested are future scholars. Now sit back and take a trip down memory lane when "Grease was the word."

Julie Morton and Steve Buntrock gaze into each others eyes as they sing "We Go Together," for the finale.

Willie Walters introduces "Grease Lightning."
